

South Mumbai fixes its date with Star chefs Gary and George

October 17th 2012: You have seen them hopping around with knives, pans, meat slices and dough in the comfort of their kitchens, whether on their cookery show Good Food or on MasterChef itself. But don't be surprised if in the coming days you find Gary Mehigan and George Calombaris strolling past the Victorian architecture of the town or tantalizing their taste buds to some tempting kababs at Mohd Ali road as they are here as part of the OZ fest organized by the Australian High Commission.

As part of this initiative the gourmet gods will be descending to one of the stores of Godrej Nature's Basket to engage in some conversations with customers, media and famous foodies & chefs. The session will be a closed door event and while there are no free passes for guessing the delectable topics of discussion during the session, three lucky foodies will get a chance to cook for the star chefs and also get a signed copy of their new cook book, 'Lantern Cookery Classics' during this event at Godrej Nature's Basket. Gary and George will also judge a winner for this cook-off who will get one of their exotic gift hampers alongwith a signed copy of the book.

Follow Godrej Nature's Basket on facebook and @NaturesBasket on twitter or simply look for #MeetTheMasterChefs to enter the contest and stay updated on Gary and George's gourmet expedition in Mumbai.